

Hindawi Partners with Peerwith to Provide Scientific Editing Services to Authors

LONDON: Hindawi Limited is delighted to announce the launch of a new partnership with Peerwith, an innovative provider of author services. Authors that publish with Hindawi now have access to Peerwith's best in class scientific editing services.

Using a dedicated Hindawi portal (<https://hindawi.peerwith.com/>), Peerwith connects authors directly with experts in their field. Authors are invited to provide an initial summary of their objectives. This summary is then used to provide bespoke quotes from relevant academic experts. Both parties agree on a fee for the work required. Every exchange is unique and is tailored precisely to the author's needs.

Peerwith's direct connection between author and expert creates a consistent dialogue allowing for easy development of the project. The author has complete control over the direction of the final output right up to the point of delivery.

Commenting on the partnership, Richard Bennett (Commercial Director, Hindawi) said, "we are delighted to expand the range of services we offer to Hindawi's authors. Scientific editing adds another key support service which we feel could help authors communicate their research in a more effective way. Peerwith's ability to directly connect Hindawi authors with experienced researchers is an excellent example of peer to peer services being applied to STM publishing." Joris van Rossum, co-founder and CEO of Peerwith, said, "we're proud to partner with Hindawi. It's an innovative publisher built on an ethos of openness, which aligns really well with the Peerwith philosophy".
